

Name: James Pham

Location: Laos

Home town: Mekong Region

Mission programme: Church Planting

James hails from one of the neighbouring countries in the Mekong region and is currently based in Laos. His primary area of mission is to share the gospel and plant new churches for his native countrymen who are living in Laos. He was born and raised somewhat in poverty, but God saved him and led him to pursue a life in ministry.

James is grateful to have led a life immersed in the Word of God, having had the opportunity to learn and eventually teach God's Word, lead a small group in worship, and be involved in missionary training. Over the past four years, God has blessed him in his preparation for this ministry in another country.

He now fluently speaks the Lao language and has fully acclimatised to the local climate and culture. This has allowed him to be more effective in preaching in the local language and reaching out to the people in Laos.

His vision is to share the gospel and goodness of God with as many people as possible, plant new churches, promote unity among different groups of people from his native country and also support the Lao church. James also plays a role in supporting training programs for the Lao people and his native churches in Laos.
